

NAME _____

VS 3e and 4a
The Colony Changes:
Africans, Women, and Tobacco

Africans Arrive

- African _____ and _____, from what is now the country of Angola, were captured by Portuguese sailors. It is not known whether these early African men and women were _____ or _____ in _____. In 1619, however, Africans arrived in Jamestown against their _____. The arrival of Africans would eventually make it possible to expand the planting and harvesting of _____.

Women Arrived

- In 1620 additional _____ landed in _____ on the Bride Ship. This ship was sent to Jamestown by the _____ Company. If a man married one of the women from the Bride Ship, he had to _____ the Virginia Company for her trip with part of his _____ crop. The arrival of the women made it possible for the settlers to establish _____. These growing families made _____ a more permanent settlement.

Tobacco is a Cash Crop

- The economy of the _____ colony depended on _____. It was the primary source of _____. The most profitable agricultural product was _____. Tobacco became the _____ of Virginia. This means that the farmers grew it to sell for _____ rather than for their personal use.

- Much of the colony's tobacco crop was sold in _____. The tobacco farms soon grew so _____ they needed more and more workers to _____ the crop. Steady and inexpensive workers, or laborers, were a must.

• Soon large numbers of African _____, _____, and _____ were brought to the colony against their _____ to work as _____ on the plantations. As a result, the colony of _____ began to depend on _____ labor. This dependence would last a _____.

