

VS 2e: American Indians of Virginia

Name _____

Life of a Virginia Indian

- Virginia's Indians were known as the _____ Indians because much of Virginia is covered in _____ that have a great variety of trees and vegetation.
- Virginia's relatively mild climate, with its four distinct _____ - winter, spring, summer, and fall- had a great impact on the American Indians that lived here.
- The four distinct seasons resulted in a variety of _____ that the American Indians were able to use in their everyday life.

Life of a Virginia Indian

- Virginia's American Indians had to relate to the _____ and _____ of the land. The kinds of _____ they ate, the _____ they wore, and the _____ they built were influenced by Virginia's mild climate and the four seasons: spring, summer, fall, and winter.

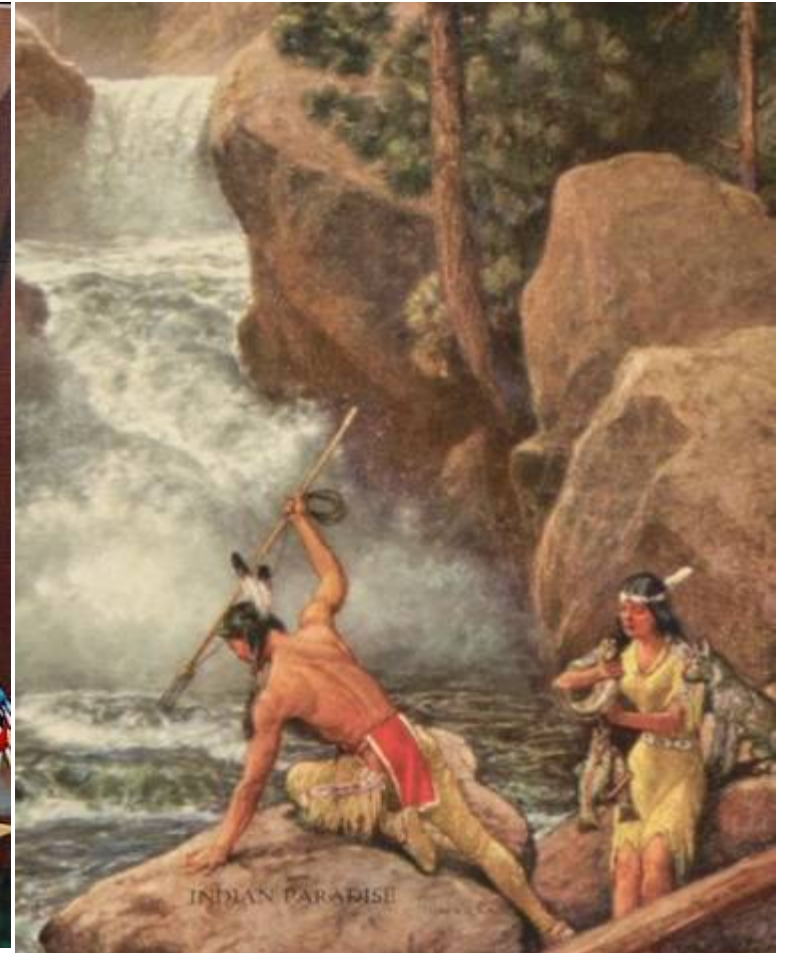

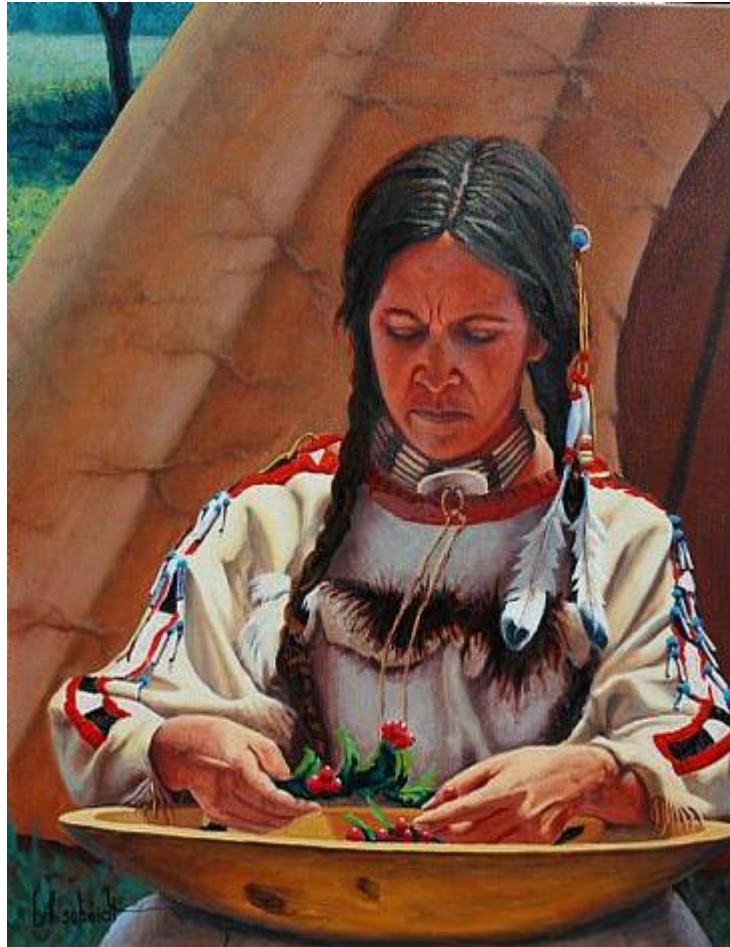

Winter Food

- In the _____, they _____ birds and animals and lived on _____ they had _____ during the fall months.

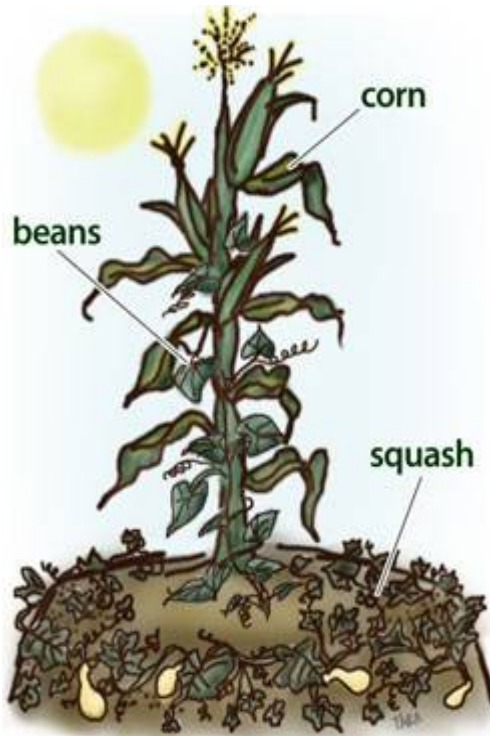

Spring Food

- In the _____, they hunted, fished and picked berries.

Summer Food

- In the _____, they grew crops like _____, _____, and squash. (AKA “The Three Sisters”)

Direct-Sow, Easy-to-Grow:
The Ancient Three Sisters Method

Fall Food

- In the fall, they harvested their _____ and hunted for foods to _____ for the _____.

Homes and Shelters

- Their homes, or shelters, were made from the _____ or materials found around them.

Clothing

- They made their _____ out of _____ skins, such as deerskin.

Cherokee Indian

Cultures

- The _____ of the native peoples have changed over time. Today most live like _____.

This girl is dressed normally, but she's joining other Indians as they celebrate ancient rituals of their tribe.

